State Money for Schools

Will you tell me how much State money our district will receive this year under the new law, and when we will get it? The assessed valuation is $$ 55$, 805. We have spent around $$ 1,450$ including the teacher's wages and running expenses. We do not understand the law and would like to know how much tax we have to raise.
C. G.

New York.

Briefly stated the new State aid law provides that a one-teacher district shall receive the difference between the amount of a four mill tax on full valuation of the property of the district and $$ 1,300$ during the present year provided at least $$ 1,300$ was expended last year. In order to figure the amount of State aid you are entitled to receive it will be necessary to have the full or State valuation of your district. You continue to base your tax on assessed valuation just as you have in the past but in computing the amount of State aid the full valuation figure is needed. Now to use your case:

Your assessed valuation is $$ 55,805$.

Suppose that the ratio of your assessed valuation to full valuation is 60 . Then $$ 55,805$ divided by 60 equals $$ 93,000$ approximately. Four mills time $$ 93,000$ equals $372; $1,300 less $372 equals $928 gross State aid; $928 less about $55 (teachers' retirement fund) equals $873 State aid, payable in two installments next Spring at the same time as in former years.

Your ratio may be higher. In that event your State aid will be some higher. If your ratio is still lower your State aid will be slightly less.

The amount of State aid will increase $$ 100$ each year for the next two years, so that two years hence, using the figures in this illustration your State aid should be $$ 1,073$. In order to receive the maximum State aid it will be necessary to spend $$ 1,400$ this school year and $$ 1,500$ during next school year.

The State aid may be used for teacher's salary or for any other current expense incident to running the school or for repairs to the school plant which are replacements, such as a new roof, new floor, etc.

R. H Steves Esq

Principal Dear Sir
The disorder which exists in some of the Departments of the School. especially in the Boys Grammar Department. as well as the utter disrepect for the Teachers authority can no longer be tolerated. The discipline of the School must be at once restored to its proper standard. and ill-mannered boys be made to understand that they cannot insult the Teachers with impunity. Where other means have failed. we hereby authorize the use of the "rod", to be administered only by yourself. We caution you to exercise a wholesome discretion. and only resort to this punishment in cases where the offense against the discipline is of an aggravated nature. The pupil should in every case be made to understand - that his punishment is because of his offense against the school - and we recommend that the punishment be made as public as the offense - Give the Scholars fair warning by reading portions of this note. or stating its import - Record in detail every case in the "Black book". on a page headed "Corporal punishment". The entries stating the instrument used, the number of blows, and the part ofthe body the blows were applied to. The rule on suspension is not in any way changed by this note except that corporal punishment may be in addition to the punishment of suspension

We hope if you are compelled to exercise the authority given in this note that one or two examples will suffice. And the rod then be quietly but completely abandoned $26^{\text {th }}$ Oct. Cornelius Byrne and Dennis Hynes played truant.

Nov. $15^{\text {th }}$
Sent Cornelius Byrne home for repeated disorder in classroom. 1888
Sept 21 Edward Pagan was sent to prin at noon for throwing stones at a small boy in lowest primary class. Miss Dillon teacher in charge of yard reported Pagan as insolent in his talk and manner when she directed him to go to the prin. When I began to enquire into the matter an hour later I found Pagan very surly and not disposed to be even civil to me. I talkid with him for $3 / 4$ of an hour trying to show him his error but with no other result than rude replies when I could induce him to talk at all.

At last after doing my best to get him to speak to me in a civil tone I applied the rod to the seat of his pants, Then he became willing to ans. me in civil manner.

Sept 21 Joseph Ross has repeatedly done contrary to the regulations of class and of school, He has been admonished several times already this month. Today during a recitation, and just as the teacher's back was turned to him he threw a wet sponge across the room and hit a boy, His teacher Miss Spaulding sent him to me. After calling attention to his repeated acts of disorderly conduct. and to the fact that he had been sent to me several times & had been cautioned to be more careful in his deportment I struck each hand twice with ratan

Dec. $11^{\text {th }}$ 76. Whipped Danl. Brady for direct violation of rule in regard to snow-balling. The vio= lation was a test case: It was in fact an instance of "I shall do as I please in this school, \& propose to be $=$ gin now".

The following speaks for itself:

I, Danl. Brady, confess in the presence of my school-mates, the teachers, \& members of the Board of Education, that I have basely deceived my teachers by writing false [excuses \& presenting them as true] excuses to my teachers: that on the $28^{\text {th }}$ Nov. 1876. I asked a little brother, eight years old. to go before one of the teachers and state state to her that my mother wished me to leave school that day at 12 o'clock, thus persuading him to lie for me \& shield me from doing duties justly imposed upon me. And I promise here in the pres= ence of you all, school-mates, teachers, \& members of Board of Education, to perform hereafter

$6^{\text {th }}$ Feb. Sent Samuel Abramson home for great and continued disorder in the class-room, and for con fessed determination not to do his work unless forced to do it.

The parents of the boy were informed of the case in full.
$15^{\text {th }}$ Feb. The above mentioned boy sent home again for same reason.

The parents were notified that the case would now go before the Committee.

The Committee was also informed that the matter was subject to their decision.
$6^{\text {th }}$ Feb. The case of John Sweeny class C Gr. John Sweeny had been up to the above date very disorderly in his classroom, during Miss French’s charge of the room: he had also given Miss Shaw trouble, I had talked with him kindly, seeking to reach the boy's better nature, urging him, as he was a large boy \& not able to attend school much longer, to make the most of the opportunities of the school.

I came to the conclusion reluctant= ly that kindness was wasted on him, and having been sent to me again on the day of the above date I told him plainly that I should resort to harsher meansthat I should use the rod if there were further trouble from him.
$6^{\text {th }}$ March John Sweeny was again sent to me by his teacher and I used the rod severely. The boy was ugly from the start and for a brief period the ques= tion was who was the stronger. This question was, however, soon decided and he submitted to the punishment. He was determined not to go back to his room, but I took him back and compelled him to take his seat. I then stepped out of the room, but opened the door immediately after closing it and caught him with his face turned around smiling at one of the boys. I called him to me again and punished him with the severity the case demanded. But he tried to be very ugly, and once he seized a slate \& said he would hit me with it. I commanded him to lay the article down $\&$ he did so, I then took him out in the hall and he tried again to overcome me, but found it as be= fore useless, and then asserted that he was going home and would tell the trustees about it. I told him he should go home when I was ready for him to go and not before.
I finally took him to the door of the School-building and told him to go, & that he should not return again with my permission.

After he reached the street he was abusive in his language, exciting the derision and contempt of some workmen in the adjoining yard.

The boy should not be allowed to return without the most humiliating and public confession being demanded of him.

His father has been fully informed of the boy's conduct, Signed,

Selah Howell.
Prin. School Nio. 1.

$9^{\text {th }}$ March William Guest was disobedient to his teacher. The case was reported to me on Monday March $12^{\text {th }}$. I promptly dismissed the boy for the day as I was not then able to attend to the matter. After seeing the mother of the boy, I deemed it best to require of him, that he promise his teacher in the presence of the class to be a better boy in the future, \& obey promptly her requests. This would be satisfactory to the teacher as she had expressed herself before hand.

The promise was made on Tuesday March $13^{\text {th }} 1877$. and was in all respects properly done.
$14^{\text {th }}$ March. Dismissed for the day William Doyle Class D Gr. for repeated dis= order in his class-room, The teacher did her duty faithfully and fairly but the boy was stubborn and word was sent to me. The case needed, in my Judgement, the remedy above mentioned.

Word was sent by Mr. Boyd to the father.
$6{ }^{\text {th }}$ April. William Doyle again sent home for rough \& even rowdy con= duct in class-room.

Word sent as before to the father of the boy. C Gram.

It is necessary to state at first for the truth's sake that Cor= nelius is one of the very bad boys of the school.

I found him in Miss Shaw's room, excused to come in each morning at ten, or as much after that as might be to him convenient. and to leave in the after= noon at two o'clock. It can be safely stated that he was in no way prepared for the grade of the room. and was wasting his time. After long thought over the matter and a talk with his father I deemed it best to allow the boy to remain in the room. ${ }^{\text {P }}$ He was not present at the regular examination, staying away purpose= ly as I think; so he still continued a member of the class.

He began from the start to give Miss French trouble. He would not do any work & was often, as I think, need lessly absent. Finnally, I degraded him with three or four others to Class D Gram. After that he refused to come to school and as I am told ran away from home. He was brought back home, or at least came before me one morning some time after the above mentioned transaction, wishing that I would try him for a week & then go back to class D Gram if he was not in all subjects what he ought to be.

I tried him. Before the $2^{\text {nd }}$ of the week, however, he refused point blank to obey his teacher. She had detained him after school for failing to learn his lessons, and he had the impudence to say loud enough to be heard all over the room that he wouldn't learn his lessons until he got ready. When he again came to school, which was the following Monday $27^{\text {th }}$ March, I punished him severly severely with a whip. He then left saying I should never be troubled with him again. Since then the boy has not been in the school.
$25^{\text {th }}$ April. Whipped James Flanagan for hitting boy in the eye with a sling shot.
$18^{\text {th }}$ May 77. Whipped Frank Dolan D Gr. for disordered repeated, after caution that his career would end with a flogging unless he was very careful.
The punishment was by the use of a hickory whip applied to hands and legs.
$11^{\text {th }}$ May. Whipped Morris Abrams B Gr. for refusing persistently to obey his teacher.

On the same day James Carroll was punished in the same way for throwing sand in the water pail.
1877.
$22^{\text {nd }}$ May. This is the state fact statement of fact concerning Mr. Jeremiah O Connor’s son Thomas of Class C Pri.
Mr. O'Connor has insisted in spite of my very clear explanations to the contrary, that school does not begin until 9 o'clock in the morning, & has perversely kept his children away from the school until that time. It was particularly the case with the boy Thomas.

The teacher required the boy to make up the time lost in this way by detention after school hours. Mr. O’Connor was very angry about it, came to the teacher and in a very rude and ugly way told her not to keep his boy in again. The teacher reported the same in full to me & I told her to treat the boys as she did other boys and girls & I would take all the blame and responsibility attached to the call.

On the 9th $16^{\text {th }}$ of May Mr. O Connor came to me again with his complaints \& again I patiently explained to him that the teacher was obeying orders, that I was simply carrying out the rules of the school and if he wished the matter investigated he must go to the Board of Education.

All this in the most quiet and gentlemanly manner that I am capable of.

After leaving me, he went over to the school room in which his child was and took the child away by force, the teacher remonstrating against such conduct. He said to her in a very rough imprimpudent way "I thought I told you last week not to keep my child in any more!"

The case was immediately reported to me. I sought council & the next day when the child appeared dismissed it from school for the day, sending word to the father to that effect. Two days after that the child came late, & I sent it home again: So the matter stands to-day.
$11^{\text {th }}$ June. $\quad$ I whipped George Miller for repeated= ly disobeying his teacher. He had been cautioned kindly \& fully; but seemed determined to have his own way and to go even so far as to assert his will before the school. Then it was time for the correction to be made, public and thorough. It was done.

Dec. $14^{\text {th }} \quad$ The case of Martin Cashin - E Gram.
His teacher, Miss Barnes, sent for me to come to come to her class-room, which I did and found that Martin had been asked to do his work and had refused, at the same time bending over his desk.

Miss Barnes took him by the shoulder to straighten him up when he struck her twice. The boy was called up for punishment before his class, since the offence had been committed so openly.

He refused to obey orders and took his seat, resisting all control.

He was taken from his seat by force.
His rage was so great that I was compelled to lay him upon the floor and hold him there, and finally to carry him from the room to the Library where he was laid upon the floor and left to his thoughts.

After a time, completely subdued and thoroughly ashamed of his conduct, he was willing to do anything which might be asked of him, and went with me to the class-room and willingly submitted to his punishment

During the afternoon he was placed alone with his thoughts and his studies.

Excepting this once he has been a right-minded boy since he came under my observation; and his teacher states that he is such.

I believe that Martin is thoroughly reliable, excepting such outbursts of passion which blind him to reason, but which occur very rarely.

Nov. 18 ${ }^{\text {th }}$ Nevilles Patterson. Throwing stones on the grounds at a playmate. The rod was applied.
$\mathrm{M}^{\text {ch }} 11^{\text {th }} \quad$ Anthony Kahler, Class C. Gram. Dept. reported for disobedience and impertinence in class-room continued for days, and for severely pricking another.

Cautioning, reprimands and other measures having failed to work a change the rod was resorted to. See page 128.

Dec. $2^{\text {nd }} \quad$ Anthony Kahler, C Gram., disorderly and impertinent in small ways for weeks. After kind means had been used and failed, he was told that harsher means would be used. His conduct was not changed and the rod was used.

Dec. $16^{\text {th }}$ Anthony Kahler in disorder in the hall; continued talking after a teacher had taken him from the line. Told and persisted in direct falsehoods in regard to the matter.

After a careful investigation it was found that he deserved a punishment and he was whipped on the hands.
1879
Feb. 5 A. K. in continual disorder and not doing duty in class-room.

Dismissed for the day.
Letter home.

$\mathrm{M}^{\mathrm{ch}} 12^{\text {th }} \quad$ James Hynes. Maliciously creating disturbance on line and renewing it upon opportunity.

The rod was used, for he has been repeatly cautioned and reasoned with with the result above. See pages $73,81,90,118,127$. Letter home. $\mathrm{M}^{\text {ch }} 14^{\text {th }}$

Mch 19 ${ }^{\text {th }}$ James Hynes, very disobedient and disorderly on line. The teacher in charge at that point gave a certain direction and he deliberately disobeyed, and purposely threw a large part of his line into confusion.

Sep. Oct. l. James Hynes, C Gram. Threw apples at the girls over the division fence in the play-ground and soiled their dresses.

On being sent to me he deliberately lied about the matter in the face of the most positive and trustworthy evidence. Dismissed for the day.

Letter home.
1878.
$\mathrm{M}^{\mathrm{ch}} \quad$ 29. John Taylor, very disobedient and persisted in denying acts which I saw.

Has been very untruthful. Have seen his parents, but no change made. The rod was applied.

April $10^{\text {th }}$ Willie Hill E" Gram. three times said to his teacher
"I wont" in the presence of his class and when the principal was sent for , privately threatened to beat the boy who was sent if he went. For these things he was whipped.

May $21^{\text {st }}$ James Morrissey, fighting on street near school grounds. Reprimanded.
June $14^{\text {th }}$ Peter Larkin. repeated attempts to get another boy beaten upon the grounds. Two blows with a ruler on each hand.

Sep. 23 Willie Steves, C Pr. Stealing from a classmate, and lying. Punished by four strokes of a ruler upon the hand.

April $1^{\text {st }} \quad$ On this day Joseph Quinn, class ‘a, Primary was directed by his teacher to do take a suitable position, but did not and said he would not; Upon this she went to his seat and he arose and threw two books at her, one striking in such a manner as to lance the arm. She then forced him into his seat. In his desk were books belonging to other pupils - a pile from which he took the books thrown - showing that he had determined not to obey and had prepared for any measures which might be taken.

He has often refused to obey, and often has been insolent - very insolent, and disorderly; but the boy is very deaf, and evidently very poor, and in consequence his misdeeds have been passed by more lightly than those of others of his class.

It now seems that patient labor is without its reward in his case.

April 9 ${ }^{\text {th }}$ John Hanlin, class E" Grammar, while seated in class-room during school hours, rose and struck Edward Christie who had just come in. The outgrowth of a quarrel while the boys were in a boat. John was punished by ten blows on each hand given with a ruler.
Oct. 16 On this day Miss Pillsbury took charge of class D, Gram. Dep. for the first time.

She made the rule that any who wished to go out during the session could do so, but must remain ten minutes after school.

Fred. Youngs asked to leave the room and was told that he could upon the condition named. Upon this he remarked to his seat-mate that he would not stay.

Again he asked, and was given permission upon the same conditions, but did not go.

Some time after, when the class was doing its regular work he left the room without asking. Upon coming in the teacher called him to her desk and said that for disobedience he must remain an hour after school. He flung himself into his seat in a disorderly way, was called back and told to take his seat in an orderly way, but strutted back to his seat in an insolent manner. He was punished in the presence of his class, for this insolence before the class.

Freddie is willful, and this often leads him to do things which are wrong.

Apr. $16^{\text {th }}$ Edward McNierney, E" Gram., throwing boys' hats into the girls’ yard; on the fence after being directed by the monitor to get down; in disorder on line, and disobedient. Severely punished by the rod.

May $21^{\text {st }} \quad$ Edward McNierney fighting on the street near the school grounds. Severely reprimanded.

May $28^{\text {th }} \quad$ Edward McNierney; Same offence. Letter home.

Oct. 18 $8^{\text {th }} \quad$ Edward McNierney; has been reported as one who, of late, has been attempting to do as he chose in class. For disobedience and disorder he was dismissed for the day.

June 16 Edwd. McNierney; has long been disobedient and disorderly; he has also been truant. On June $5^{\text {th }}$ he refused to obey his teacher; I was called and he obeyed my command.

Today I find that he said that he would pay his teacher by being late every morning the next week. He was late every morning.

These and similar facts have this day caused his suspension.
Reinstated June $21^{\text {st }}$ - first day of examination.

1878

Apr. $16^{\text {th }}$
Lawrence Huntington in disorder on line, and disobeyed Miss Ross, then in charge. He has been cautioned and reprimanded repeatedly; this time the rod was used.

Apr. $22^{\text {nd }} \quad$ Willie Kelley, B Pr., did not obey the teacher in charge of the line until the third command and then in a very ungracious manner, and finally returned to his former position.

Since he had given his teacher much trouble on the score of disobedience he was whipped, for the first time.

May $20^{\text {th }}$ John McGrath, assisting in a fight near the school grounds.

June 5 John Donehue tripped other boys in marching Denied the fact although most clearly proven. Punished by the use of the rod on the hands.

Apr. $17^{\text {th }}$ Sam'l Ward, threw a book in class-room at another. He is of a decidedly pugnacious character. Punished with five blows of the rod on each hand.

Apr. 18 ${ }^{\text {th }} \quad$ Samuel Ward, reported for great disorder. Severely whipped as he deserved after having been cautioned many times.
1880
$\mathrm{M}^{\mathrm{ch}} 8^{\text {th }} \quad$ Saml. Ward, quarrelling in class-room 1878.

May 7 Willie Sexton was engaged at the morning recess, in the business of catching little boys who were playing horse and cutting the lines.

Two larger boys attempted to stop his course and he became angry and chased one about the grounds with the open knife, threatening to use it. At last, in a fit of anger, the knife was drawn upon another boy who in self-defence struck him a heavy blow. After investigating the matter and receiving the statements of five of the larger boys not interested in the matter Willie was punished with the rod as severely as possible without injury to his person. In reference to his former conduct I would say that it has been very bad. (See pages 121, 3 entries, and 137.)

The names of the boys interested and of the witnesses of the transaction can be had.

Oct. 22 Willie Sexton, saucy and impudent to his teacher. Whipped on the hands and about the legs.

$\mathrm{M}^{\mathrm{ch}} 18^{\mathrm{th}} \quad$ Mattie Morris has repeatedly stolen from her classmates; once a pair of rubbers, once a veil, once one dollar and two cts. contained in a purse.

She has shown no penitence when these things have been found out, but has confessed only when the nature of the evidence has been such that it could not be disputed.

On Monday, $\mathrm{M}^{\text {ch }} 15^{\text {th }}$, the rubbers were restored to the owner, and on the same day the purse and money were stolen by her. On Tues., $\mathrm{M}^{\text {ch }} 16^{\text {th }}$, the veil was restored.

On Wednesday, $\mathrm{M}^{\text {ch }} 17^{\text {th }}$, the father was notified of the thiefts and asked to cause her to restore the money.

On Thurs. $\mathrm{M}^{\text {ch }} 18^{\text {th }}$, she came with word from her mother that the money could not have been taken by her.

But the evidence being conclusive I determined to suspend her from school for these various thiefts.
While the Grammar Dep. was assembling she made confession of having taken the money.

Later she showed where it had been spent.
Suspended, and notice sent to the father and to the Com. on Teachers.

1884 Michael Hynes was reported to me Sept. 9 by his teacher, Miss Cleaveland, for gross impertinence and disorder. He had openly defied all her directions - talking and laughing while the teacher was looking him full in the face. He also left his seat, and went into the clothing closet, without permission. I spoke to him about his disorder and he did not reply to some of my questions, I placed my hands on his fore head and pushed his head back so that I might see his face. He moved away from me saying he was not going to have his hair pulled out by the roots I then struck him on the side of his face and afterward took him to room no 4 and struck him several times on his hands with a ruler.
Dec 9 Michael Hynes struck Geo. Valentine in they eye with his fist, in the school yard, Was punished by striking him six times on each hand with ruler.

Maurice Jarvis came on the school grounds this morning smoking a cigarett, He was seen by Miss Parsons and at once threw the lighted cigarett down and stepped on it.

7 Miss Mason reported Joseph O Meagher for repeated disorder on line and in class room. Was punished by applying ruler to each hand 4 times.

1888

June
John O Meagher ran out of class room after school while being retained by Miss Mason, for disorder. Rattan on each hand three times and given permission to apologize to Miss Mason.

Miss Mason sent Ralph Hawes to me for impertinence and said he was often disrespectful. Pupil was cautioned not to repeat offence and told if he should do so he might be punished or sent home.

May $3^{\text {rd }} \quad$ Peter Hinz reported to me by Miss Mason for repeated sauciness and disobedience in class room, I have talked to this boy and have done all I could to have him do right in school. As a last resort I punished him by using rattan on each hand 5 times

Feb. 16 Miss Mason brought Edward Hughes to my office and insisted that he should be punished for repeated impertinence and insolence, This pupil has been in Miss M's class for more than a year, He has always been most respectful to me and to Miss Parsons in basement and on line. The boy had been impertinent, The teacher must be sustained. Edward was struck 6 times on each hands with rattan.

Feb. 28
Patrick Hughes severely punished with rattan on hands for being impertinent to Miss Mason.

No teacher in the school has half so much impertinence in her class as Miss Mason.
1888
May 24 Miss Mason sent Wallace Reynolds to prin. For insolence in the class-room. The boy was disrespectful to his teacher and was punished by striking each hand with rattan 6 times.

Jany 10 Miss Mason has repeatedly complained of Oliver Odell for disorder in class room, I have talked to him and have kept him in my office for more than an hour after school and have done my best to get along without punishment but to day as a last resort I used the rattan - with success I trust. -
1888
May 15 Miss Mason complains of Oliver Odell laughing playing and talking in class. In conversation with Oliver before Miss M- he shows penitence and begs tobe given a new trial. Miss Mason consents and the boy is cautioned not to give further trouble.

I may say this is the first time Olly has been sent to me since Jany 10./88.

May $23^{\text {rd }}$ Miss Mason reports Joseph Doyle for impertinence and disrespectful conduct in class, This pupil has usually been very obedient and respectful and this being the first time he has been reported I excused him with a sharp reprimand.

May 5 Miss Disbrow reported Fred Seacor for impertinence.
I talked to the boy and tried to show him the wrong he had done and expressed the hope that he might not be again reported by his teacher. He returned to his room and slammed the door after him and in the presence of the entire class. I called him back and after same conversation applied rattan to seat of pants. He was then sent to his room a second time and this time he slammed the door more violently than before. A second application of rattan on the same part of the body as before had the effect of producing most perfect obedience so for as going to his room properly was concerned.

May 5 James Goatcher impertinent and disobedient to Miss Dillon Have had occasion to speak to this boy several times and finally I use a rattan on seat of his pants.

Sept 20 Miss Clarke reports Geo Bagley for impertinence in word and manner. He being a new boy from Brooklyn I spent some time in talking with him and explained that our rules permitted me principal to punish pupils in extreme cases of disobedience. Geo. promised to do better.
Sept 21 Geo. Bagley idle and insolent today. I saw his mother who told me they had to take him from school in Brooklyn for his misconduct. She said she wishes I would punish George if necessary, George promised to do better.
Sept 29 To day Geo Bagley has thrown nut shells about room and has been impertinent to his teacher Miss Clarke. After ten minutes conversation with the boy I struck him 6 times on each hand with rattan. This boy is nearly 16 yrs old and one of the worst cases I have had for years.

Feb 11 Last night while I was very busily engaged the telephone rang and I went to ans. it, Mortimer Hadley who was at Geo. T. Davis telephone uttered a disrespectful remark and laughing went away, In reply to a note to his father Mr. Hadley wrote me a very courteous note expressing deep regret for his son's rudeness and say in his son should make such apology as I deemed proper. A day or two later Mortimer met me in the hall and said his father had told him to apologize to me. I replied that this was not the place to make his apology. He had boasted before several of his school mates of his rudness and it seemed to me proper for him to make his apology in their presence. This he declined to do. I was ill at the time and very busy and told the boy his conduct was such or had been such as to render him liable to expulsion and requested him to so inform his parents.
This he did so he told me. Feb 27 he was very troublesome in his class room. I spoke to him about his conduct and tried my best to appeal to his manhood. It was Octo. 11 Geo. Bender and Louis Helmich were fighting in school yard in the presence of at least 250 boys. They were both large boys and knew better. Rattan applied 5 times to each hand of both boys.

Hadley M.B. apparently of no use. He seemed to think laughing in a teacher's presence when she was talking to him and reproving him perfectly proper. It now being twelve oclock I dismissed Mortmer expressing the hope he might do better. In the afternoon he asked to go home. I again spoke to him about his failure to apologize for his rudeness to me Feb. 10. He seemed to feel that he had done nothing to be ashamed of. In a word him was perfectly indifferent and while I was reproving an other pupil for impertinence, Hadley ran out of the room and went home

The next morning I rec ${ }^{\text {d }}$, a note from his father saying he, Mr Hadley, had decided to remove his son from school.
